Sermon Synopsis ... This week we continue our series on the universality of God. You can't put God in a box. He transcends national and religious barriers. In the Psalms, David asked, "What is man that you are mindful of him?" Carl Sagan explored a similar theme in his reflection of the pale blue dot of planet earth. Is humanity an insignificant blip in the universe? Or does life have some more significant meaning?

Sad News ... Carol Keith passed away in Palisades, WA, on January 13. Carol's service and influence were broad. At Green Lake, she was an elder, head elder, the wedding coordinator, the school board chairperson for Cypress Adventist School, and a member of the Washington Conference Executive Committee. For years, her particular ministry was to college-age and young professional church members and their friends. She planned activities and get-togethers and publicized them in a monthly young adult newsletter. Her husband, Chuck, and daughters, Devanie and Michelle, hosted lunch for the young adult group after church at their home, providing nurture and social interaction for 20 to 30 people each Sabbath. Her friends and family will remember her for being a good, loving, kind, and hospitable person. Condolences may be sent to Chuck Keith at 1354 Palisades Rd, Palisades, WA 98845-9611.
